About the Sponsors

Oregon Interfaith Power & Light (OIPL) is a project of Ecumenical Ministries of Oregon (EMO).

OIPL engages the faith community to strive for accountability in our individual and collective energy decisions in an interdependent world. Our motto is "Generate the Future." For more information, call Jenny Holmes at (503) 221-1054, ext. 214, or visit www.emoregon.org.

EMO is a statewide association of Christian denominations, congregations, ecumenical organizations and interfaith partners working together to improve the lives of Oregonians through community ministry programs, ecumenical and interreligious dialogue, environmental ministry and public policy advocacy.

Oregon Department of Energy (ODE)

The mission of ODE is to ensure that Oregon has an adequate supply of reliable and affordable energy and is safe from nuclear contaminations by helping Oregonians save energy, develop clean resources, promote renewable energy and clean up nuclear waste. More information at www.oregon.gov/energy.

Energy Trust of Oregon, Inc. is a nonprofit, public-purposed organization dedicated to promoting efficient use of energy and generation of power from clean, renewable sources. They help Oregonians save energy, increase the comfort of their homes and improve the profitability of their businesses. For more information, visit www.energytrust.org or call 1-866-ENTRUST. Participants in Energy Trust program must be customers of PGE, Pacific Power or NW Natural.

Workshop I: Save Your Congregation Energy & Money

A consultation on energy stewardship for congregations, facility managers, clergy and building committee members

Thursday, May 29, from 12 noon to 2:30 p.m.
(11:30 a.m. registration)
Hood River Valley Christian Church
975 Indian Valley Road, Hood River, Oregon

This consultation will provide an opportunity for congregation facilities managers, clergy and building committee members to network among themselves while learning key principles of energy stewardship including: troubleshooting energy challenges, the value of good recordkeeping, and how to save money and energy through low and no cost measures of energy efficiency.

In addition, the workshop will cover energy ethics, funding opportunities, case studies, resources for energy efficiency upgrades, renewable energy, and building renovations available through the Energy Trust of Oregon, Oregon Department of Energy, Washington State and local utilities. OIPL's challenge for congregations to reduce their energy use by 20 percent will be introduced with clear steps on how to achieve this goal.

Agenda

- Opening prayer.
- Introductions, lunch served.
- Key principles of energy stewardship.
- Building operations: Low-cost, no-cost measures to save energy and money, troubleshooting, recordkeeping.
- Funding your energy efficiency project or renovation.
- The OIPL challenge.
- Energy Audit – Important energy savings opportunities to look for in your congregation.

Workshop II: Energy Stewardship

A dynamic workshop empowering individuals and congregations to save energy, money and the earth

Thursday, May 29, from 6 to 8:30 p.m.
(5:30 p.m. registration)
Hood River Valley Christian Church
975 Indian Valley Road, Hood River, Oregon

This workshop will focus primarily on what households can do to reduce their energy use and the resources available to improve energy efficiency in the home—energy and money saving details that will easily apply to the needs of businesses and congregations. We will discuss various ways to support and directly use renewable energy. Faith foundations for an energy stewardship ethic will be presented throughout.

Agenda

- Improving your quality of life through energy efficiency and conservation.
- How your congregation or household could produce no global warming gases.
- The ethics of energy stewardship.
- Renewable energy options.
- Incentives available through Energy Trust of Oregon and Oregon Department of Energy.
- Plan of action for your congregation or home.
